HOW TO SURVIVE MIDDLE SCHOOL

MON APR 7
AT 10AM

60 mins | at the Mahaiwe

Comedian Robert Post barely survived Middle School. Struggling because of various learning disabilities, he found that making people laugh saved him. In this brand new multimedia performance, kids talk to kids in a compelling, funny and educational show. Dealing with real issues affecting students today including social media, testing, bullying and peer pressure these video testimonials by kids and their advocates (along with a generous dose of Post's signature humor) is sure to resonate with students.

One of Robert Post's childhood report cards in Columbus, Ohio, gave a hint as to how his future might unfold. Not amused by Robert's antics, his teacher created a whole new column of categories describing maladaptive behavior. Happily for audiences around the world, Post stuck with antics. The result: a dazzling performance career that continues to defy categories.
